Pete Swanson's son, Pete Jr., brought his tenth Jap plane down last week, and his dad couldn't help bragging.

But I got to thinking about Pete Senior: how he hadn't missed a day at the war plant since the war began; how he'd worked overtime and Saturdays and Sundays; how he'd kept himself in shape, been temperate and sensible, so that he'd be at work clear-headed, bright and early every morning.

So; when he invited us over after work to drink a toast to his son in a sparkling glass of beer-I couldn't help toasting Pete Senior, too.

There are no new 1945 cars available at present and no action will be taken on any applications received until quotas are established.

William B. Connolly, state rationing executive, said: "A rationing amendment effective July 18, 1945, brings under rationing control all new cars produced or imported after July 1, 1945. The state quota at present is zero. Quotas will not be established and no certificates will be issued until distribution makes establishment of quotas possible."
